The rights you grant to ECU under this License will last in perpetuity. References to the ECU IR or ECU Library Digital Collections or eCollections at Emily Carr include any successor institutional repository designated by ECU. This license will cover this particular submission you make to the ECU institutional repository, including multiple parts of the same project (i.e. both the critical & process documentation paper and the documentation of artworks/projects that accompany said paper).

You agree that ECU may, without changing the content, migrate these submissions to any medium or format for the purpose of preservation. You also agree that ECU may keep more than one copy of these submissions for purposes of security, back-up and preservation.

Your Submission: Your Submission is the material described above, and includes the abstract, associated descriptive information, and any other information you have submitted to the ECU institutional repository in association with that material.

PUBLICATION OF YOUR SUBMISSION

This License does not affect the ownership of copyright—you maintain whatever rights you have in the Submission. In addition, this License does not contain a waiver of your moral rights to your Submission. However, you have granted important rights to ECU and visitors to the ECU institutional repository and, therefore, you agree that if you grant others copyright ownership or a license, it will be consistent with the rights you have granted under this License. For example, if you wish to publish your Submission in a journal, you will inform the publisher of the rights you have granted ECU under this License and not agree to terms that restrict those rights.

TERMS OF ACCESS BY THE PUBLIC

ECU will make a digital copy of your Submission available in the ECU institutional repository for the public to view and copy for non-commercial purposes only, without prior permission or charge, provided that your Submission is not altered in any way and is properly acknowledged, including citing the author(s), title and full bibliographic details (Note: this corresponds to the Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs, or CC BY-NC-ND Creative Commons license). ECU may, in its discretion, make your Submission available pursuant to a Creative Commons license (or other licensing platform), on similar terms. If you wish to assign different license terms to your Submission (for example, a different Creative Commons license), you must inform ECU Library as part of the submission process, and the terms of that license shall apply to your Submission. Public access to your Submission may be withheld for a period of time (embargoed) agreed upon with the ECU Library. You understand that Canadian Copyright law applies to your submissions.

ATTRIBUTION

ECU will attribute the Submission as you have indicated above, or as you may notify ECU from time to time, and not alter the Submission except as allowed by this License or with your prior permission.

ECU LIBRARY INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY POLICIES AND ECUAD REGULATIONS POLICIES

You acknowledge and agree that you have read and understood the ECU institutional repository policies and submission guidelines and related ECU university policies, and that your Submission complies with those policies. You acknowledge that the ECU institutional repository policies and submission guidelines and ECU university policies may be amended from time to time and that the then current policies will apply to your Submission. In particular, you acknowledge and agree that ECUAD may, in its discretion, refuse to distribute the thesis. You will receive a notification if it so decides.

GRANT OF LICENSE

In consideration of ECU preserving your Submission in perpetuity in the ECU institutional repository, you hereby grant to ECU the irrevocable, non-exclusive, world-wide, perpetual, and royalty-free right to use, reproduce, display, convert, sublicense and distribute, in any format and any medium, your Submission, for the following purposes:

- a. uploading and storing your Submission;
- b. publishing the Submission electronically on the Internet via the ECU institutional repository, which means making your Submission available to the public by telecommunication so that they may view and download your Submission, subject to the public access terms described in Terms of Access by the Public, below;
- c. converting your Submission to any medium or format for the purposes of security, back-up, archiving, preservation and use of the Submission in accordance with this License; and
- d. authorizing third-parties to perform any of ECU's rights described in this Section, on ECU's behalf.

RELEASE AND INDEMNIFICATION

You agree that you will not hold ECU responsible for any use or misuse of the Submission by third parties who access the Submission through the ECU institutional repository and ECU websites.
